SUMMARY OF QUALIFICATIONS

Emily Zaller is a tiny artist with big ideas. Working as a Director of Creative Media, Emily has racked up a lot of experience points creating a myriad of marketing assets that are usually needed within the drop of a hat. Now, she takes those skills into the world of freelance by providing companies and individuals animation, graphic design, and illustration services. Emily is always eager to learn and constantly searches for ways to up her design game, whether it's with a more streamlined work flow or a fresh style. She is a problem solver and enjoys organizing various types of projects, both in her career and free time. Although Emily currently works as a generalist, her true passion lies in telling stories through animation.
